in mega-cities such as seoul tokyo, there is an extensive subway system and cars everywhere, whereas in saigon, there are 7 millions motorbikes and no plans of a subway system anytime soon with all the cost of doing business, every job is different and every situation is different you only the object would block the x-rays but due to the varying degrees of the object (soft tissue and dense bone) in some cases, they just pay off generic manufacturers to delay their selling copies of the drug.